Welcome Addresses & Vision for the Future of the BC Coast

CHIEF JUSTIN GEORGE
Tsleil-Waututh Nation

"We need to unite to protect the environment for all of our future generations. This is not just a First Nations issue. It's time to get busy developing energy alternatives. Tsleil-Waututh is developing businesses that will provide clean, renewable energy sources like wind power."

MAYOR DEREK CORRIGAN
City of Burnaby

"We must develop energy policies that focus on meeting North American energy requirements, not on profiting multi-national corporations at the expense of our environmental security. Risking an environmental disaster to provide energy supply for export is unacceptable policy and practice."

MAYOR GREGOR ROBERTSON
City of Vancouver

"Our future depends on a swift, aggressive transition to renewable energy. For a healthy economy and environment, BC and Canadian governments must halt the subsidies and reckless expansion of fossil fuels, and focus now on creating jobs and prosperity with clean energy and technology."
